DFFICERS ASKED TO INVESTIGATE CASE OF CHARLES NORTON,

LIVED IN DOUGLAS COUNTY

SUPPOSED TO HAVE FROZEN TO DEATH HERE LAST WINTER.

Minnie Roberts Is Another Missing Person Who Is Being Searched For-Runaway Boy Found-Will Try the Old Farm Once More

Humane Officer Greenman has a mysterious disappearance case to work on. He received a letter yesterday from J. C. Dean, of 199 Locust street, Lawrence, Kas. requesting him to search the coroner's records and the records of the health department and ascertain if Charles Norton was frozen to death in this city last winter, and, if so, where his body is buried. Nor-ton left his home at Sibley, Douglas county, Kas., to pay a visit to a daughter who lived at that time near Linden, Clay county, Mo., and he has not been heard of

He left Lawrence about February 3 and intended to come to Kansas City before proceeding to Linden. The writer of the letter says his wife and five children have just been informed that a man answering his description was frozen to death in this city a few days after he left home. Norton was about 50 years old.

The records of the police surgeon and the coroner show that two men were Yrozen to death in Kansas City last winter. One was a man about 50 years old, who was picked up in the railroad yards at Nineteenth and Wyoming streets on the night of February 9. His body was not identified. His dress and description, however, do not answer that given of the missing Kansan. The other was an old resident of Kansas City, who was frozen to death one Sunday in the early part of March in a cabin in the West bottoms

Minnie Roberts Disappears.

W. W. Roberts, a painter of Parkville, Mo., was at police headquarters yesterday afternoon to leave a description of his 15year-old daughter, Minnie Roberts, who disappeared from 1991 McGee street on July 25, and has not been seen or heard of since. Roberts says his daughter came to Kansas City two or three weeks ago to visit the family of James Lynch, who lives at 1961 McGee street. She came here without his knowledge and consent, and when he wrote the Lynch family a few days ago and learned that she had left there, he became alarmed and came here in search of her.

Miss Roberts formerly resided with her father at 1901 McGee street. When they lived here last winter she was employed as a clerk in the Doggett Dry Goods Company's place of business. She objected to pany's place of business. She objected to living in a country town when her father returned to Parkville last spring, and when he left home three or four weeks ago to perform a job of painting in the country she left for Kansas City.

She stayed for a week or ten days with a family named Alexander, who lived in Westport. When a bill for $5 was presented to Roberts for board he declined to pay it, and he believes that members of the Alexander family know where she is. Miss Roberts is well acquainted in Kansas City, but her father has been unable to find any trace of her through her acquaintances.

Boy Who Disappeared Found,

George McFadden, 15 years old, ran last Monday, because his stepfather was unkind to him. He came to Kansas City in search of employment, and was unable to find it. Yesterday his mother became alarmed over his continued absence and came here in search of him. She went to police headquarters yesterday morning and left a description of her missing son. She had been gone from the station less than five minutes, and the ink had scarcely had time to dry on the bulletin which Sergeant Jerry Caskey had prepared at her request, before Officer Phil Kirk walked into the station with the missing boy. He was picked up at Fifth and Main streets.

"Do you want to go home, or do you away from his home in Crab Orchard, Mo., "Do you want to go home, or do you want to go to jail?" Chief Hayes asked the runaway lad.
"Well, home hasn't many attractions for me," slowly replied the boy, "but after all I reckon it will beat jail life two to one. I guess I'll try it down on the farm once

On the left of Columbia stands an allegorical figure, also of a woman, represented by the descending stairway is a marine view showing an American batterior the island patriots.

In the coloring the artist has combined perfect harmony with a desire to make the poster conspicuous, and the effect is ideal.

dows, and not exposed to view. This accounts for the impunity of the burglars. Several twenty-five ride books were taken from the case, and a large number of round trip tickets, which were stamped up. No money was left at the depot, and the thieves took what they could. This depot has been robbed very often of money, but tickets were always discarded heretofore. The police believe that if the railroad management would have wire wickets so that the interior of the office could be seen from the depot or street, it would stop the burglaries. As soon as Dettmer steeped from the police courtroom after being discharged by Justice Spltz he was arrested by Officers Koger and Reidy a second time on a state warrant issued by Justice Walls. He was arraigned in the latter's court and his case was set for hearing next Tuesday. The warrant for his arrest was sworn out by Millership. The police recovered yesterday a portion of the good Dettmer is alleged to have stolen from the restaurant. They were found at 12 North Second street, Kansas City, Kas. COUNCIL GRANTS REQUEST OF KAR-NIVAL KREWE.

Eleventh Street, From McGee to Grove Will Be Used for the Coming Street Fair-Other Action of the Council.

Both houses of the council last night passed unanimously and without argument the ordinance granting to the Karnival Krewe the use of Eleventh street, from McGee to Grove, for the coming street fair.

A belated remonstrance made its appearance in the upper house of the council and with fine sarcasm was referred to the streets, alleys and grades committee. It was from residents living along the line of the Brooklyn avenue street railway and was a protest against the complete shutting down of the line on account of the grading of Tenth street. It was filed with the city clerk some weeks ago and has been in the budget ever since, but never saw the blinding glare of the electric light in the council chamber until last night. The Brooklyn avenue line ceased to run three weeks ago The board of public works sent in a communication to the effect that the East Side Electric Street Car Company refused to pave between its tracks on Fifth street with asphalt, and the communication was referred to the public improvements com-mittee. The company claims the terms of the franchise permit the use of brick. H. C. Bodkin will impound stray animals and care for unlicensed dogs, as the mayor sent his name to the council last night and he was unanimously confirmed. Some of the fine horses that will attend the Horse show this fall will be stabled in temporary sheds in the alley between Central and Wyandotte streets and Twelfth and Thirteenth streets. The association and Thirteenth streets. The association asked the city council last night for permission to use the alley. The ordinance granting such permission was referred to the streets, alleys and grades committee in the lower house and passed by the up-was well pleased with his experience there. He established an agency in the Hawaiian capital for his firm, the Westcott Carriage Company, of Richmond, Ind., and is confident that the returns will be golden. "Honolulu is a beautiful city," said he, to a reporter for The Journal. "The people are prosperous and up-to-date, the climate unrivaled, the roads excellent and the vartous lines of business well established. There are not many opportunities, however, for new ventures. The population is cosmopolitan and the islands will be the favorite resort of tourists for years to come. The temperature the year 'round ranges from 60 to 70 degrees, and discomfort from heat or cold, of course, is never experienced. The people are apparently satisfied with being annexed to the United States and if any are disgruntled because of it I failed to see them or hear of them."
